

Complete communications for local churches.

The Narrow Gate Mission

Narrow Gate Media is a product development and marketing company dedicated to equipping local churches with communication resources for effective ministry. Our variety of graphics resources for preaching and worship helps churches communicate more clearly in a visual world, while our sermon kits help pastors with limited resources promote and deliver quality, personalized sermon series. And our customizable banners and printed products allow a church to provide an immersive experience for the congregation and expand the visual message beyond the church sanctuary.

We deeply believe that ministry happens in the local church, and passionately work to equip pastors and other church leaders for success. Our resources help pastors do more, faster, while maintaining the integrity of each pastor's unique calling.

The Message is Clear

Our tools help pastors communicate more effectively, without forcing them into a cookie-cutter approach. Our approach starts with the weekly sermon, and communicates outward to the congregation and the community. God has given each church leader a specific message to be given to their church at this time; our mission is to help each pastor communicate their unique message with more clarity and impact to a greater number of people.
